2. The lecture and demonstration (including questions from the floor) consumed approximately two hours and was conducted by several members of TRD staff.

[REDACTED]

4. In the opinion of the writer the lecture and demonstration was exceptionally well presented and the opportunity to handle and examine these devices and weapons and discuss them with TRD experts was invaluable.

5. The writer informally has requested of [REDACTED] that another lecture and demonstration be held in the near future and [REDACTED] has given oral promise that this would be done, probably after 1 April 1950.

6. It is respectfully suggested that this lecture and demonstration be made an integral part of Staff III study and that all Staff III officers who can be spared for the necessary two hours be granted permission by DS III to attend.

7. For matter of record in this connection, at least twenty-five (25) Staff III officers, in addition to the eleven officers mentioned in paragraph (1) above, have indicated their desire to attend any similar lecture and demonstration to be held in the future.
